Paris Decatur Hosts Benefit Concert for Georgia Equality

February 9, 2009, Atlanta, Georgia - Following a very successful benefit at Wild Mustang/Jungle last month featuring the well-known lesbian duo Halcyon & singer/songwriter Renee' Mixon, Paris Decatur in downtown Decatur, GA will host the second Stand for Equality concert benefiting the advocacy work of Georgia Equality.

The event will take place on Saturday, February 21st from 8:00 -10:00pm. Tickets are $10 and are available at the door or online at www.GeorgiaEquality.org.

Paris Decatur is a newly renovated, hip spot in downtown Decatur, open to everyone and particularly popular among women-loving women. Lesbian folk musician Renee' Mixon will return as the main act with Tabitha Eden opening. Tabitha Eden is a Jazz Fusion/New Age singer/songwriter blending traditional jazz & sensuous new age vocals with contemporary chill & soulful R&B music with splashes of drum & bass & hip-hop. These two talented performers are coming together for one night only to build support for LGBT rights in Georgia.

Stand for Equality is part of Georgia Equality's Campaign for a Fair Majority. In addition to attending this fundraising concert, individuals throughout Georgia can go online & create personalized web-pages that will allow them to get their friends, family & co-workers involved in advocating for LGBT rights in Georgia.

"With the legislature now in session & important issues affecting the LGBT community on the table, it's important that the LGBT community and it's allies make an active Stand for Equality", stated Jeff Graham, Georgia Equality's Executive Director.

Founded in 1997, Georgia Equality is a statewide educational and political advocacy group working to bring fairness, safety, and opportunity to Georgia's gay, lesbian, bisexual and transgender community.
